Clinically Based Kinesiology Taping Theory & Application Courses

The SpiderTech™ Clinically Based Kinesiology Taping Theory & Application Course is a one-day certificate program, providing participants with a functional medicine approach to modulating pain and myofascial dysfunction through the use of specialized taping applications.

Participants will be provided with the how, when, where and why kinesiology taping can be used in order to modulate pain and myofascial dysfunction. At the end of this one day course, participants will be evaluated to ensure that they have the skills necessary to be able to appropriately apply kinesiology tape in a pre-cut application format and understand the process for using the applications with other kinesiology taping products in order to incorporate SpiderTech™ as a therapy into their patient management strategies.

This one day course offers pre-approved Continuing Education Credits (8 contact hours) to Certified Athletic Trainers (Therapists), Chiropractors, Licensed Massage Therapists, Physical Therapists (PT, DPT and PTAs) and Occupational Therapists (OT and OTAs). All other health care providers are welcomed to attend and will be provided with any supporting documentation required for self-submission of CEUs upon written request.
